APPROVED RUBRICAL LUNAS

OUR RUBRICAL LUNA NO. 740 USED IN OUR CHEAP AND MEDIUM PRICED OSTENSORIA AND INCLUDED IN PRICE.

This Luna conforms in every way to the rubrics. The inner rims of sterling silver, shown in second illustration, hold the consecrated host, are one-sixteenth of an inch in thickness and one-quarter of an inch in width, which prevent the host from coming in contact with the crystal lens of the Luna. When closed the Luna is securely locked.

This Luna is substantially made of sterling silver, heavily gold plated, and can be had for a host of any size from $2\frac{1}{16}$ inches in diameter to $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter. The lenses are of plate glass, heveled edge. The slide can be made to fit any shape or size of slide in the ostensorium receptacle.

THE SPIRIT OF THE RUBRICS.

Altar crucifixes and altar candlesticks, as used at present, were not in vogue previous to the eleventh century. Before that time they had their places before the altar, not on the altar. However, they were always made of metal, and frequently of precious metal—gold, silver, etc., richly chased and ornamented. Crucifixes and candlesticks for use on the altar should be in the same architectural style as altar and other furnishings.

For a side altar a crucifix and two candlesticks are sufficient, but the high altar should be provided with at least six candlesticks and a crucifix. Candelabra with two arms accommodating three candles must not take the place of the single candlesticks mentioned before, although such candelabra may be used apart from the prescribed candlesticks. These candlesticks, in fact all candlesticks and candelabra used on altars should be cast of metal. (Caer. Episc. Lib. I, Cap. 12, 21, 11.)

Every part of the Candelabra is made of heavy brass casting, finished in best workmanlike manner. The beautifully tapered onyx shaft and the marble base add grace to this fixture. The brass is highly polished and coated with our hard preservative gold lacquer.

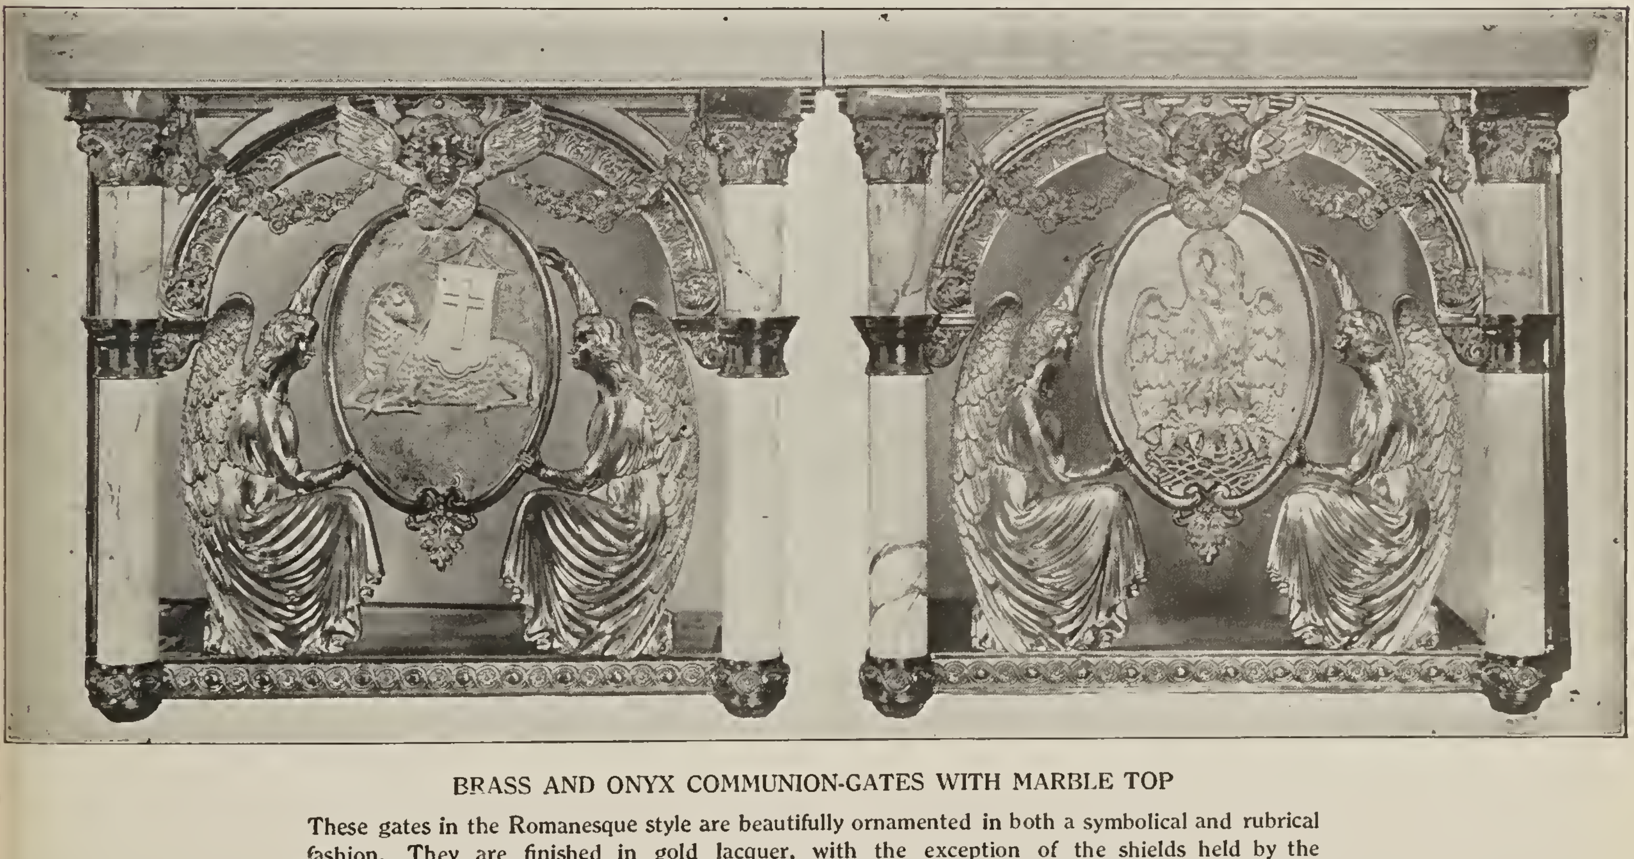
BRONZE COMMUNION-GATES IN GOTHIC STYLE

These gates are artistic and at the same time dignified and substantial. Nothing adds more to the beauty of any sanctuary than a handsome brass or bronze Communion Rail. Such a railing has the durability of marble without its coldness and at half the cost. For a person wishing to give a memorial its advantages are manifest.



BRASS AND ONYX COMMUNION-GATES WITH MARBLE TOP

These gates in the Romanesque style are beautifully ornamented in both a symbolical and rubrical fashion. They are finished in gold lacquer, with the exception of the shields held by the angels, which are oxidized silver. The effect is striking. We have made hundreds of gates and rails for which we have the patterns. By using these patterns you can make a very considerable saving.
